

Quality Feed, Exceptional Eggs

Exceptional Eggs

Since 1935, Kreider Farms has been a provider of quality eggs and dairy products in Lancaster County and beyond. With over 70 years experience and a variety of modern layer facilities, Kreider's is well-equipped to provide customers with a variety of egg products all produced under the guidelines of the Pennsylvania Egg Quality Assurance (PEQAP) program for food safety. Kreider's modern layer houses are equipped with in-line processing facilities so the eggs are packed the same day they're produced for maximum freshness. Our chickens are fed a consistent, healthy diet produced by an ISO-certified company. Our feed manufacturer's exclusive processes are ISO-certified in Quality, Environmental Management, and Health and Safety. What does that mean to you, the customer?

Certified Processes For Kreider Farms

For Kreider's egg customers, having an ISO-certified company manufacture and deliver our custom feed formulas means that there is a disciplined framework in place for every stage of the manufacturing process. ISO-certified processes help insure that we receive from our supplier:

- Consistent processes
- Consistent service
- Continuous improvement

- Less waste throughout the system
- Reduced risk (food safety)
- On-farm prevention of pollution
- Compliance with regulations
- Addresses concerns of interested parties
- Added peace of mind—it's being done right!

For the Kreider Consumer

Consumers can be assured that Kreider's egg products are the only ones made with a consistent and tested source of feed manufactured by a mill certified in three ISO-standards. With the quality control procedures created by the ISO-certification process, our feed supplier delivers a quality product that can be traced at any stage during the manufacturing process for verifiable quality in every load. In addition, our feed supplier is committed to protecting the environment by reducing waste and preventing pollution throughout the manufacturing process.

The bottom line for Kreider's customers is a high quality, consistent product produced under the highest of standards. Come home to quality eggs.
